Dear Commissioner:

In the claims:

Claim 1 (Third amendment). I claim an improved access system for multiple programs [transmitted] delivered in compressed form on a [transmission] delivery channel, said access system including at least one of the multiple programs being [transmitted] delivered without a user's specific request, at least one of said multiple programs including at least some displayable information.

means for recording the programs in a data storage medium at the user's location, means for the user to select a particular program from the data storage medium at the user's location and means to decompress said particular program for use by the user before or after storage.

Claim 2 (Third amendment). I claim the access system of claim 1 characterized in that there is one storage medium for storing multiple programs [transmitted] delivered on a schedule over which the user has no control.
